THE WEATHER TO-DAY -- From our reports this morning the probabilities are that the weather to-day will be oblder, clear or partly cloudy.

THE WEATHER YESTERDAY WAS rainy and disagreeable during the early part of the day, but clear, mild, and pleasant in the afternoon and at night. The walking was simply horrible, and last night, the temperature having become considerably lower, the sidewalks

Uniform Gauge-Freights for Richmond to be Expedited. GREENSBORO', N. C., February 9, 1875.

Editors Dispatch,-There has been a mani est change in business of all kinds and a marked spirit of improvement evinced by the people generally of Greensboro' since the consolidation of the management of the Richmond and Danville and North Carolina railroads; and in my humble opinion the degree of prosperity enjoyed by this community is in the main attributable to her good fortune in baving secured the advantages attendant upon the aforesaid consolidation. What a pity that neither the North Carolina nor Virginia Legislature have common sense sufficient to allow this important thoroughtare a uniform gauge.

Colonel Talcott, general superintendent, having, I suppose, prosperous just now than the North Carolina division of the line aforesaid.

A STRANGE GATHERING OF STRANGE PERSONS-THE STRONG HELPING THE WEAK.

PHILADELPHIA, February 9, 1875. Editors, of the Dispatch: 1 witnessed ingular sight to-day. Suddenly introduced into a neatly-furnished parlor containing twenty-five grave, dignified gentlemen, representing the first lawyers, doctors, divines, and merchants of this great city, with here and there a millionaire, I heard read the seventy-tourth annual report of the "Mag-dalen Society" of Philadelphia. I don't think I was ever in a body of the same size that impressed me more. Character, dignity, and benevolence were stamped upon many a. bill further proposes to give to the Gover-The report told of a year of "good works" for the Society. I was impressed with the earnest attention given to the report by all in attendance. Letters, some well written, were read, from former inmates of this charity. I thought of the "lost sheep" and of "prodigal son," of the command lations made for State warehouses. to "seek those that are lost," of the duty of going into the "bighways and hedges and compelling them to come in.' Your readers know little of this work. It is certainly "Christianity in earnest." It is kid-glove philanthropy. It is pulling them out of the fire. Here the worst are brought face to face with the best, and though antipodes in morals they feel that they are akin by nature and by God's command.

The writer was cordially received by these gentlemen, and asked to address them. After the election of officers the company rener assistants, with all the inmates of the "Home" (about thirty-nine), were assembled. Singing and prayer, and exhortation by several of the gentlemen, lay and clerical, was the order of proceeding. The inmates were nicely clad; some very young, others perhaps thirty-five. All seemed touched by these exportations. I noticed whenever reference was made to their happy childhood days tears filled their eyes. Ah, the happy hours of childhood, how they remind us all of lost innocence! These exercises being concluded the gentlemen were invited into the dining ball, and sat down to a most sumptuous feast. Two very interesting girls waited upon the guests. One of these was not now an inmate, but is in a good-situation? She comes in at every anniversary to assist the matron. This Magdalen Home was bought seventyfour years ago for $4,000. It could not be bought now for $100,000. The house, which is comparatively new, is four stories high and well appointed. The garden is in a high state of cultivation. There are no lady managers, as is the case in our asylum in Richmond. Much time is devoted to this institution by the Board of Managers, and their A. B. C. interest is increasing.

How it Affects Settlers.-Settlers coming to ¿Virginia naturally desire to find a home which may also prove attractive to friends left behind whom they hope to see follow them to this State.

Only those who have lived in England know how immense is the influence brought to bear against everything Virginian by the bondholders. There is a never-ceasing cry of perfide, which keeps thousands of capitalists from investing in our lands and manufactures. So long as this state of things lasts our settlers cannot hope to secure many more settlers. If the matter were left to the settlers to decide they would all vote for State Solvency. The settlers, at all events, would not object to pay the additional $8 on every $2,000 that he is assessed in order to preserve the fair fame of his adopted country. Strange that in some respects settlers should be more patriotic than some citizens. We commend the fact to Senator Pumblechook Pridemore the next time he wishes to make charges of "treason."-Farmville Mer-

But the sufferings of the poor in Richmond must be terrible indeed. Probably tive thousand men, white and black, are totally unemployed, and are without credit or resources and almost without hope. There is no organization to afford them relief-nobody to help them in their distress. This severe weather must be to them a fearful affliction.-Richmond letter in Petersburg

The bill is now in the hands of the Finance Committee of the Senate.

> CHAMBER OF COMMERCE .- A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held last evening.

> On motion of Mr. Grubbs, in the absence of President Anderson, Mr. Potts was called to the chair. Mr. Rogers, from the Committee on Inland Trade, submitted a report, in response to a communication from Messrs, Palmer, Hartsook & Co., in relation to excessive charges alleged to have been made on grain between Richmond and certain points in North Carolina, on the Raleigh and Gaston railroad, and discriminations against Richmond in favor of another Virginia city, as well as West.

The committee say that the discriminations and high rates of freight complained of were, in their opinion, partly the result of misapprehension on the part of complainants, and partly by mistake or error on the part of the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad Company in overcharge of freight, and the difference of overcharge has been or will be returned. The rates of freight from Norfolk to Franklinton and Henderson, N. C., (according to printed tariff,) is the same as from Richmond to the same points. The committee are assured that a tariff of treights will be issued in ten days by the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad Company, connecting with the Petersburg road to Weldon, thence over the Raleigh and Gaston railroad, that will be satisfactory and favorable to Richmond interests. Mr. Rogers, from the same committee, also reported progress made by the committee with the Richmond members of the General Assembly as to the bill to require regular reports from the railroads, canal companies, and coastwise vessels of freight shipped over their lines, &c. On motion of Mr. Capers, the reports of the committee were adopted, and the com- value of $1.25 from the store of Mr. A. B. mittee discharged from the further consideration of the subjects.

A MARRIAGE AT THE POLICE COURT .- Bellfield Gray, a colored man of about twentyfive, was before Police-Justice White yesterday charged with seducing Mary Belle Harris, a fellow-servant, under promise of marriage. Finding that he was in a very perilous situation, and in danger of going to the penitentiary, Harris consented to mend matters as far as possible by marrying the girl. A license was accordingly procured, Rev. William Williamson, a colored Methodist minister, was sent for, and in the presence of the Police Justice, reporters, lawyers, spectators, witnesses, and prisoners, he solemnly performed the ceremony. In accordance with the law the proceedings against the accused were then dismissed, and the "happy pair" retired from the court-room.

As he did so his shirt Cunningham and Ross were summoned im- ried to the Church Institute. The skull was found to have been driven down upon the brain, and three pieces of it had to be re-moved. The operation was very skilfully performed, but the condition of the young man is not such as to give any very flattering hopes of his recovery. Mr. Kearney is about twenty-six years of age, and was raised in this city, and was for a time employed at the paper-mill. Not long after the evacuation he removed to St. Louis and was returning to Richmond to bring his mother to visit her married daughter residing here when he made the leap from the train. His friends state that he had not been drinking to excess, if, indeed, he had been drinking at all. The only explanation they give of his suicidal conduct is that he might have been suffering from an aberration of mind, resulting from a wound on the head received a few years ago.

Mrs. Kearney's wrist was painfully in ured, having been drawn down upon the window-sill in her effort to save her son.
